Smith Senior Living residents embrace life

Smith Senior Living enriches lives by creating communities where older adults thrive. That's been the not-for-profit's mission since 1924.

While Smith Crossing in Orland Park and Smith Village in Chicago's Beverly neighborhood boast a legacy flourishing in the Southland for almost a century, both life plan communities clearly are rooted in the 21st century. They offer a range of lifestyles and health care options from independent living to assisted living and memory care, plus short-term stay rehab and skilled nursing care.

"When my wife Ruth needed more support, we found everything she required right here. Smith Crossing's impressive amenities and warm, helpful residents and staff make us a community," says Dennis Golomb, Smith Crossing Residents' Council president.

"There is a sense of history here," adds

Gene Sablick, Smith Village Residents' Council president. "In fact, we make history here every day."

The completion of the Greenleaf Rehab Center at Smith Crossing in September 2020 and a comprehensive modernization of Smith Village's rehab and skilled nursing care wing to open in fall 2021 are testaments to advancing Smith's mission.

"Our longstanding tradition of caring is the foundation for our growth," says Kevin McGee, Smith Senior Living president and CEO. "We look to the future to invest in fresh approaches for today's older adults."

Both Smith Village and Smith Crossing earn top marks from the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) and the Commission on Accreditation of Rehab facilities (CARF).
